Please consider posting on your social media channels to support and encourage ocean conservation action by the leaders gathering this week in Lisbon Portugal for the UN Ocean Conference using one or more of the suggested posts below, adapted as you see fit to meet your needs! You may also wish to pair your post with one of the graphics on the following page.

- Scientists recommend protecting by 2030 at least 30% of the ocean to help conserve animals and ecosystems, address the climate crisis, and provide a better future for all of us! As world leaders gather this week for the #UNOceanConference, we encourage and applaud proposals to support local efforts that protect special places in the ocean. #Protect30x30 #OceanClimateAction
- The ocean provides a home for wildlife and so much more, supplying us with oxygen & food, regulating our weather & climate, supporting our coastal economies, and providing cultural connections. To those gathered at the #UNOceanConference, we say the time is now to take conservation action! #OceanClimateAction #Protect30x30 #UNOC2022

Thanks also to our partners in the national movement for 30x30 and ocean climate action, who also produced this more complete social media kit as well as this helpful backgrounder about the UN Ocean Conference.
